

Online Electrical Safety & LOTO for General Industry

Course Audience

Electrical Safety and LOTO for General Industry is appropriate for all employees who work with electrical equipment in the course of their job duties in most industries, including:

- Manufacturing
- General office
- Warehousing and distribution
- Property management

To determine if this course is appropriate for your training needs, please contact us.

Course Objectives

This intermediate-level online electrical safety and LOTO training course explains how to work safely with electricity and avoid the dangers of live current.

Course Topics:

- The basics of electricity and electrical safety
- Common electrical hazards
- OSHA's safe work practices for electrical safety
- Circuit protection devices
- Ground fault circuit interrupters (GFCI)
- Equipment design
- Personal protective equipment (PPE)
- Isolation and control of hazardous energy (COHE) strategies for electricity, including guarding of live parts, grounding, and more

- Energy control devices and programs
- Best practices for identifying and securing electrical energy sources
- The importance of lockout/tagout procedures
- Identifying a zero-energy state

Elk Environmental Services is partnered with Clicksafety to offer our clients quality online training.

