

Online Demolition Hazards for Construction

Intended Audience

This Demolition Hazards for Construction online course is designed for construction workers and managers who are responsible for the safety of their job site according to OSHA regulations.

- Construction Foremen
- Construction Supervisors
- Construction Workers

Learning Objectives

In this online safety course, we will cover ways to work safely in a high hazard occupation. You will also be instructed on OSHA requirements for ensuring safety during demolition jobs. When finished, you will have been provided with an understanding of the safety techniques and procedures needed to perform demolition activities safely.

Course Topics

- Introduction to Demolition Safety Training
- Planning for Demolition
- Demolition Hazards
- Safe Work Practices
- High Hazard Demolition
- Final Considerations

Elk Environmental Services is partnered with Clicksafety to offer our clients quality online training.

