

Online Motorized Mobile Platforms for Construction

Intended Audience

The Motorized Mobile Platforms for Construction online course is designed specifically for construction workers and managers who are directly responsible for the safety of their job site and its integrity according to OSHA regulations. This may include:

- Construction workers
- Construction forement
- Construction managers

If you have any concerns as to whether this course is appropriate for you or your industry, please contact us.

Learning Objectives

This is an intermediate online safety course specifically designed to teach participants about safeguards for mobile operations and different platforms in regards to Federal OSHA standards. Participants of the Motorized Mobile Platforms for Construction course focuses on the prevention of injury by providing the most up-to-date understanding of equipment, systems, and procedures used in mobile operations.

Students participating in the Motorized Mobile Platforms for Construction online course will learn how to maintain efficient operations while increasing productivity and avoiding accidents when using aerial lifts or motorized mobile platforms.

Course Topics

- Introduction to mobile platforms and aerial lifts
- Dangers associated with mobile platforms

- General types of platforms
- Scissor lifts
- Boom lifts
- Forklift mountain personnel baskets
- Crane baskets

Elk Environmental Services is partnered with ClickSafety to offer our clients quality online training.

