

Online Asbestos Awareness for General Industry

Intended Audience

This Asbestos online training is designed for workers who are responsible for the safety of their job site according to OSHA regulations.

- General Industry Workers
- Construction Workers

Learning Objectives

In this Asbestos online course, we will discuss the properties and primary uses of asbestos, the primary route of exposure, the OSHA permissible exposure limits, and the recommended exposure controls. After finishing the course, you will be made aware of the requirements for training, exposure monitoring, hygiene facilities, medical surveillance and record-keeping.

Course Topics

- Introduction to Asbestos
- Properties and Exposure
- Requirements when using Asbestos
- Conclusion and Summary

Elk Environmental Services is partnered with Clicksafety to offer our clients quality online training.

