

Online Emergency Action/Response for Construction

Intended Audience

Emergency Action/Response for Construction training is designed for construction workers and managers who is working near or may be exposed to hazardous substance emergencies.

- Construction Managers
- Construction Supervisors
- Construction Workers

Learning Objectives

This Emergency Action/Response for Construction online safety course will familiarize you with basic knowledge of hazardous materials and emergency response. In addition, this course covers preventative measures that can minimize exposure to health and safety hazards. Response to an emergency is an important element of a safety and health program.

Course Topics

- Emergency Response
- Recognize and Evaluate Potential Hazards
- Hazard Control
- Emergency Response Actions

Elk Environmental Services is partnered with Clicksafety to offer our clients quality online training.

